#Challenge 1

Website Goal:

       My goal for my website is to share my life to other people and able to express myself to the people that may view my website. I want to showcase my diverse skills, background and other things about me. I aim to provide visitors with a seamless navigation experience, allowing them to easily explore and understand my work.

       I intend to my portfolio to not only serve as a static display but also as a dynamic representation of my ongoing growth and achievements. I'm still improving my skills in creating website so if I can have a time I will regularly updating the site with the new project, skills acquired, and accomplishments will ensure that it remains a current relevant reflection of my capabilities.
